Date: March 1, 2012

The following is a synopsis of some of the activities of the Isle of Palms Police Department during the month of February, 2012.

(February 1: Wednesday)

An officer conducted a traffic stop on a vehicle for a speeding violation in the area of Breach Inlet. After positively identifying the driver, information was obtained from the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) that the driver had an outstanding warrant through the Richland County Sheriff's Office for check fraud. The subject was placed under arrest and transported to the Charleston County Detention Facility for extradition.

The property manager of Port O' Call met with an officer in reference to vandalism. Unknown person(s) had cut the screens to a patio door of a unit in the A building. While investigating the scene, officers found the patio door leading into the residence to be unsecure. Officers made entry into the unit to further investigate. No one was inside the residence, nor did it appear that anything was taken from the residence. While on scene, officers located a second residence in the F building with the screens cut and an unsecured door. Again, officers made entry into the residence to ensure that no one was inside. Nothing appeared to have been disturbed.

After confirming a speeding violation through radar, the officer conducted a traffic stop on the vehicle. The operator of the vehicle did not possess a driver's license; hence, was charged accordingly.

An officer responded to 8500 Palmetto Drive to meet with a victim regarding petit larceny. The victim reported that unknown person(s) stole two bicycles that were stored in front of his unit.

When the Officer made contact with the driver, it was ascertained that he was operating the vehicle under the influence of alcohol. The subject was placed under arrest and transported to the Charleston County Detention Facility.

Officers responded to an address on Cameron Boulevard in reference to a domestic dispute in progress. Upon arrival, Officers met with the male subject who stated that his wife came home from work intoxicated and was very belligerent. According to the complainant, his wife continued yelling and throwing things about the house, in spite of his efforts to calm her. It was recommended that the parties separate for the evening. While en route to the residence, dispatch advised responding officers that the male half of the dispute had left the scene. Upon arrival, officers made contact with a female subject, who appeared to be under the influence of alcoholic beverage and upset. The female reported that she and her boyfriend had engaged in a verbal altercation that never escalated to physical violence; and that her sister was coming to the residence to stay with her for the remainder of the evening.
